

the exception by which those thanks and that medal were accompanied.

If the exception, if the capitulation itself to which the exception referred, constituted a part of the battle, then, according to the conception of those gentlemen who entertained this idea, they ought not to vote for a medal at all. If it did not constitute a part of the battle, why should that which was irrelevant be made a part of the resolution? The naked question was this, Was the battle of Monterey such a one as deserved that the thanks of Congress and a medal should be bestowed? If it were, let them be granted, and granted unanimously, without condition; and if it were not, let both be withheld.

Mr. WEBSTER said he certainly supposed that, in one point of view, the arrangement for the armistice and capitulation might be considered as part of the military operations at Monterey, though they were not absolutely connected with the feats of arms performed at that place; and he supposed that, in cases of this nature, where propriety of conduct was questioned, the commander-in-chief was entitled to have the judgment of a court of inquiry before his conduct should be definitively pronounced upon.

Little acquainted as he was with such matters, he would not presume to make up an opinion. He thought that they might get a vote of thanks for the military operations at Monterey adopted in a handsome and graceful manner, leaving the other matters to be decided at some future time, if there should be occasion for such decision, before this tribunal or elsewhere. If now in order, he would move to strike out the entire resolution, and to insert in its stead a resolution in the exact words of that which passed Congress at the last session. But, as there was a proposition to amend now pending, he would let the question be first taken upon that proposition.

The yeas and nays were then taken on Mr. Speight's motion to strike out the proviso, and it was decided in the affirmative as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Archer, Badger, Benton, Berrien, Butler, Calhoun, Chalmers, Cilley, Thos. Clayton, J. M. Clayton, Corwin, Crittenden, Davis, Dayton, Evans, Fairfield, Greene, Houston, Huntington, Jarnagin, Johnson, of Md., Johnson, of La. Mangum, Miller, Morehead, Pearce, Rusk, Simmons, Soule, Speight, Upham, Webster, and Woodbridge—33.

NAYS—Messrs. Allen, Ashley, Atchison, Atherton, Bagby, Breese, Bright, Cass, Dix, Hannagan, Niles, Sevier, Sturgeon, Turney, and Yulee—15.

Mr. WEBSTER then moved his substitute for the resolution, and the yeas and nays being taken thereon, are as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Archer, Badger, Berrien, Butler, Calhoun, Cilley, John M. Clayton, Thos. Clayton, Corwin, Crittenden, Davis, Dayton, Evans, Greene, Huntington, Jarnagin, Johnson, of Maryland, Johnson, of Louisiana, Mangum, Miller, Morehead, Niles, Pearce, Rusk, Sevier, Simmons, Soule, Speight, Sturgeon, Upham, Webster, and Woodbridge—26.

NAYS—Messrs. Allen, Ashley, Atchison, Atherton, Bagby, Benton, Breese, Bright, Cass, Chalmers, Dix, Fairfield, Hannagan, Houston, Niles, Rusk, Sevier, Soule, Speight, Sturgeon, Turney, Westcott, and Yulee—23.

The resolution, as amended, was then reported to the Senate.

The amendment was concurred in, and the resolution was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time.

By unanimous consent, it was then read a third time; and the question being on its passage, the yeas and nays were taken, and are as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Allen, Archer, Atherton, Badger, Benton, Berrien, Butler, Calhoun, Cass, Chalmers, Cilley, John M. Clayton, Thos. Clayton, Corwin, Crittenden, Davis, Dayton, Dix, Evans, Fairfield, Greene, Hannagan, Houston, Huntington, Jarnagin, Johnson, of Maryland, Johnson, of Louisiana, Mangum, Miller, Morehead, Niles, Pearce, Rusk, Sevier, Simmons, Soule, Speight, Sturgeon, Upham, Webster, Westcott, Woodbridge, Yulee—43.

NAYS—None.

We regret to learn, by letters from Harrisburg, that the supplementary bill introduced into the Senate by Mr. Darsie, in reference to the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company, meets with strong opposition from the Philadelphia members, and Philadelphia influence. This supplement, it will be recollected, gives the Company power to connect, at some point to be agreed upon, with the Central road, and also to extend the road West to the State Line. Its object is to enable the Company to transfer their means, and their machinery of officers, &c., already in operation, to the construction of a Western Railroad, to be connected with the Central road at, or somewhere east of this city. Such an object it was supposed, would meet with the hearty concurrence of Philadelphia, as, if carried out, it would as effectually and in establishing her western communications, as any other mode which could be devised. We had hoped that the late disagreeable differences would be permitted to slumber, and that present and future good fellowship and harmony would bury the past in oblivion. But if this course is to be persisted in, we see no probability that there can be any friendly cooperation between the two cities. We beg our Philadelphia friends to pause and consider well, before they again excite into activity the not yet forgotten and unhappy remembrances, and feelings of animosity, of the past year.—Pittsb. Gazette.

CONVERSION IN LAKE ONTARIO.—A letter from Thomas Thompson, of Grafton Harbor, on the N. side of this Lake between Cobourg and Colbourne, says on the 6th Jan. at 3 p. m. when the lake was calm, and wind north, the Lake suddenly receded from the shore in one immense wave upwards of 350 feet, leaving the beach dry that distance; it seemed to gather in one vast cone; and returned in one unbroken wave 4 feet higher than it usually is—and this was repeated 8 or 9 times, accompanied by a dreadful noise. The water is usually 12 feet deep.

A RELIC.—A few days ago, a Bomb-shell was presented to us in our office, which was dug up by some men while digging a cellar, at the distance of about one half a mile north of the site of Fort Ligonier. It is about 5 inches in diameter, and appears to have never been used, being sound and perfect. The mystery is, how it became embedded in the earth, for it was found at the depth of about 2 feet.—Ligonier Free Press.
